SPECIAL TO WOMEN

Do you realize the fact that thousands of women are now using

Paxtine
A Soluble Antiseptic Powder

as a remedy for mucous membrane affections, such as sore throat, nasal or pelvic catarrh, inflammation or ulceration, caused by female fls? Women who have been cured say "it is worth its weight in gold." Dissolve in water and apply locally. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. has recommended Paxtine in their private correspondence with women.

For all hygienic and toilet uses it has no equal. Only 50c. a large box at Druggists or sent postpaid on receipt of price.
The Paxton Toilet Co., Boston, Mass.

SOMETHING
SMILE AT

Mistake.
Impatient Owner of Broken-Down Car—Where the mischief are you going now with that lamp?
Lately Converted Groom-Chauffeur—
Well, sir, that shaver as was 'ere just now told me as 'ow I'd lost my compression, and I was just going back to see if I could find it along the road.—Punch.

Ornithological.
"Do ostriches have very big bills,
daddy?"
"Not in proportion to their size,
why?"
"Ma told the lady next door that she had bought a couple of ostrich plumes and she knew you would be horrified at the size of the bill."

Hard Luck.
"I'm the unluckiest man in the world."
"What's the matter now?"
"I overlooked a two dollar bill in my old suit."
"I don't see anything unlucky about that."
"You don't. My wife found it."

Musical.
"I don't believe the story, do you?"
"What story?"
"About Mrs. Youngbird. They say she went into a butcher's shop the other day and, seeing a side of spare-ribs on the counter, she remarked:
"Why, I didn't know you kept xyo-phones here."

Real Men and Fakes.

"There are two kinds of public men."

"Yes?"

"Those who attract attention by what they do after they get into office and those who attract attention by the manner in which they got into office."

Willie—There's a man out there who says he has not had anything to eat for two weeks.
His Ma—Is he a tramp?
Willie—No, ma; he says he is a summer boarder.

A Nice Life.
I'd like to be a great dramatic star
And earn much pelf,
And be intensely popular
With myself.

Where a Proverb Falls.
"There are two sides to every question," said the ready-made philosopher.
"Yes," replied the umpire who was escaping in disguise. "But you can't make the bunch on the bleachers believe it."

Breaking It Gently.
"Do you think ice is going to be cheaper this summer?"
"Yes," replied the dealer who does not wish to offend; "that is to say, I think it will be cheaper this summer
than it will next."

Out of His Element.
First Cut Throat and Robber—Did
you pull off that job in Syracuse?
Second Cut-Throat—Naw; do you know, when I got away from New York I got nervous.—Life.

Suspicious Habit.
"Is Miss Prim really a teetotaler?"
"Of course, she is. What makes you think she isn't?"
"Then why does she wear those corkscrew curls?"

Proud to the Last.
"He's a dignified nut."
"Isn't he? When I told him that I had heard that his wife had fired him out he said I was mistaken, that he had resigned."

Best Part.
"Then you didn't enjoy the performance of Hamlet?"
"No; my husband forgot to git any peanuts. I can't enjoy no show without peanuts."

Might Be Dead To-day.

Garden City, Kas.—In a letter from Mrs. James Hammer, of this city, she says: "I firmly believe that I would not be alive to-day, if it were not for Cardui. I had been a sufferer from womanly troubles all my life, until I found that great remedy. I feel that I can't praise it too highly." Are you a woman suffering from some of the troubles,
to which a woman is peculiarly liable? If so, why not try Cardui, the woman's tonic? You can rely on Cardui. It is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, and acts gently but surely, without bad after-effects.
"Will help you. Ask your druggist."

Suffered Eczema Fifty Years--
Now Well.

Seems a long time to endure the awful burning, itching, smarting, skin-disease known as "tetter"— another name for Eczema. Seems good to realize, also, that DR. HOB-SON'S ECZEMA OINTMENT has proven a perfect cure.

Mrs. D. L. Kenney writes:—"I cannot sufficiently express my thanks to you for your Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment. It has cured my tetter, which has troubled me for over fifty years." All druggists, or by

CURRENT WIT
and
HUMOR*Occasional Visitors.

A notable housekeeper of the last generation, before the days of screens, had just announced that she never had any flies.

"But, Aunt Augusta," faltered the timid visitor, "it seems to me that I saw a few in the dining-room."
"Oh, those," replied her aunt, with a majestic wave of the hand, "were the neighbors' flies. They come in occasionally. But, as I was saying, we never have any of our own."
Youth's Companion.

Taking No Chances.

Genial Squire—Many happy returns, William. I was just going to call on you with a little bit of tobacco.

William (aged eighty)—Thank ye kindly, sir, but I be done w' smokin'.
Genial Squire—Why, how's that?
William—Well, I've heard that between eighty and ninety is a ticklish
part of a man's life, so I be takin'
no chances.—London Punch.

Recent Horror.

The Doctor—The janitor of the building where I live says his father and grandfather made their living by working at similar jobs in the old country.

The Professor (slightly irritated)—
Well, what do you want me to say?
That he follows in the footsteps of his progenitors?

No Wonder.

"My wife doesn't like him."
"And yet he's a very likable fellow?"

"Yes, but he came to our house to dinner one day, and when my wife told him to make himself right at home he took off his coat and collar
and lighted his pipe."

USUAL THING.

Mr. Hixon (on the way home from church)—You had a most intent and interested look in your expression during the services. Did the sermon impress you?
Mrs. Hixon—No, I guess I was trying to figure out how Mrs. Muchgold had her hat trimmed.

Wire, Please!

The loosened clothespin wobbled—
"Was only made of pine—"
And the rude winds said, "You wonder head!"
Hi there! Get off the line!"

Clever Daughter.

"Mamma, don't you think Schiller
quite out of date?"
"I certainly do."

"I'm so glad. I just smashed his statuette in the drawing room."

Automobile Touse.

"She's a clever girl, all right."
"How so?"
"She can comb her hair to look as if she never rode in anything slower than a 60-horsepower car."

Right Away.

Orator—Now, then, is there anybody
in the audience who would like to ask a question?
Voice—Yes, sir; how soon is the band going to play?

More Important.

"No woman knows how to drive a nail."
"And what of that? Every woman knows how to drive a man any way
she wants him to go."

Double Pay.

Tim—Did you get anything for your vote.
Bill—A suffragette gimme a kiss,
and me wife see her do it and gimme
a black eye.

No Comparison.

"That woman over there who talks
so much, thinks she is a perfect well
of wisdom."
"Not much. Wells do dry up sometimes."
